Climate change is one of the most pressing issues of our time. It is a global problem that affects everyone, and it is already having a devastating impact on our planet. The good news is that there is still time to act. We can still reduce our emissions and mitigate the worst effects of climate change.

One of the most powerful ways to raise awareness about climate change is through art. Art can help us to understand the problem, to feel its urgency, and to imagine a better future. Poetry is a particularly powerful form of art for this purpose. Poems can capture the beauty of the natural world, the pain of its destruction, and the hope for a better future.

Murmur Rumble Roar is a collection of poems about climate change. The poems are written by a variety of poets, from all over the world, and they offer a unique and powerful perspective on this issue. The poems are divided into three sections: "Murmur," "Rumble," and "Roar." The "Murmur" section contains poems that whisper the first signs of climate change. The "Rumble" section contains poems that speak to the growing urgency of the problem. The "Roar" section contains poems that call for action.

The poems in Murmur Rumble Roar are both beautiful and heartbreaking. They remind us of the beauty of the natural world, and they show us the devastating impact that climate change is having on our planet. But the poems also offer hope. They remind us that we are not alone in this fight, and that we still have time to act.

Murmur Rumble Roar is a must-read for anyone who cares about the future of our planet. The poems are a powerful reminder of the urgency of climate change, but they also offer hope. They show us that we can still make a difference, and that we must not give up.
